MISCELLANEOUS READING. A POISONED VALLEY

A singular discovery has lately been made near Batten, in Java, of a prisened valley. Mr. Alexander Loundon visited it last July, and we extract a paragraph from a communication on the sut ject addressed by him to the Koyal

Geographical Society: It is known by the name of Gusva Upas or Poisoned Valley; and following a path which has been made for the purpose, the party shortly reached it with a couple of dogs and fowls for the purpose of making experiments. On arriving at the top of the mountain the party dism unted and scrambled up the hill, at a distance of a mile, with the assistance of ed Cloths; Cassimeres, for Coats, Pants and Vests; the branches and projecting roots. When a few yards from the valley, a strong, nauseous, sufficating smell was experienced; but on approaching the margin, the inconvenience was no longer found. The valley is about half a mile in circumference, of an oval shape, and about thirty feet deep. The bottom of it appeared to be flat, without any vegetation, and a few large stones scattered here and there. Skeletons of human beings, tigers, bears, deer and all sorts of birds and wild animals lay about in protusion. The ground on which they lay at the bottom of the valley appeared to be a hard

It was proposed to enter it, and each of the in twenty feet of the bottom, where a sickening, nauseous smell was experienced, without any difficulty of breathing. A dog was now fastened to the end of a bamboo and thrust to the bottom of the valley, while some of the party with their watches in their hands observed the effect. At the expiration of fourteen seconds he fell off his legs, without moving or looking around, and continued alive only eighteen minutes. The other dog now left the company and went to his companion. On reaching him he was observed to stand quite motionless, and at the end of ten seconds fell down, he never moved his limbs after, and lived only seven minutes. A lowi was thrown in, and died in a minute and a quarter. And another, which was thrown in after, died in the space of a minute and a half. A heavy shower of rain fell during the time that these experiments were going forward, which from the interesting nature of the experiment, was quite disregarded. On the opposite side of the valley to that which kets; Servants' Blankets; Shaker and Welch was visited, lay a human skeleton. The head Flannels; Towellags; Plain White and Checked | was resting on the right arm. The effect of Cambrics; Falled Cloths; Linseys; Osnaburgs; the weather had bleached the bones as white as ivory. This was probably the remains of some wretened rebel, hunted towards the valley, who had taken shelter there unconscious
